“We are glad you have come to MENDELU!
Let’s help you feel at home!”

Welcome to MENDELU!

Mendel University in Brno is named after the father of modern genetics whose experiments with pea plants held in Brno monastery established principles of heredity. He was the first one who distinguished between dominant and recessive traits.

Getting in and out

For long distance buses (by various operators) use the main Bus Station Zvonařka (south of the train station, take the tram 12), with some operators going to main cities use the more centrally located "Grand Hotel" station close to the train station. Regiojet.cz will get you from there to most cities (including abroad), with WiFi, in-seat entertainment system and hot beverages on board. Tickets available online, cheaper (approx. 20%) if you prepay an account with them. Flixbus.com is also expanding. All Czech long-distance buses will let you board and pay the driver if they have some vacancies.

The Czech rail network is one of the densest in Europe. Tickets cost usually slightly more than the buses. Most local trains have no power outlets or WiFi (Prague-Brno route is better). Some small operators run popular lines, but the dominant "České dráhy" will get you everywhere. You are able to get a student discount with your ISIC card if you are under 26. Return tickets are usually cheaper and in addition you can get a group discount for 2 or more people.

Brno has an airport with regular flights to London or Munich and a few more destinations seasonally. Bus 76 goes to and from the airport. Major international airports nearby are Prague (CZ) and Vienna (AT) which is a bit closer. There is a regiojet.cz bus that connects Brno centre directly with Vienna airport, the journey takes about 2h 15 min and the bus goes 10 times a day.

At Prague airports, take the 119 bus to the Underground (Metro) and proceed to either bus or train stations to continue to Brno. You can also try airport in Ostrava (to London, Paris, Milan, Dusseldorf, Dubai), Bratislava (SK or Krakow and Katowice in Poland).

The topography around Brno is easy: Wooded hills to the North, open plains to the South. Both are enjoyable for a day tour on a bicycle, which is a popular pastime. Bikes can be brought on most trains. Follow general tourist trails marked as special bike trails. All timetables (also for international travel) can be looked up at idos.cz (to switch to English you have to scroll to bottom right. For some connections it will let you buy e-ticket. Smartphone apps are available.

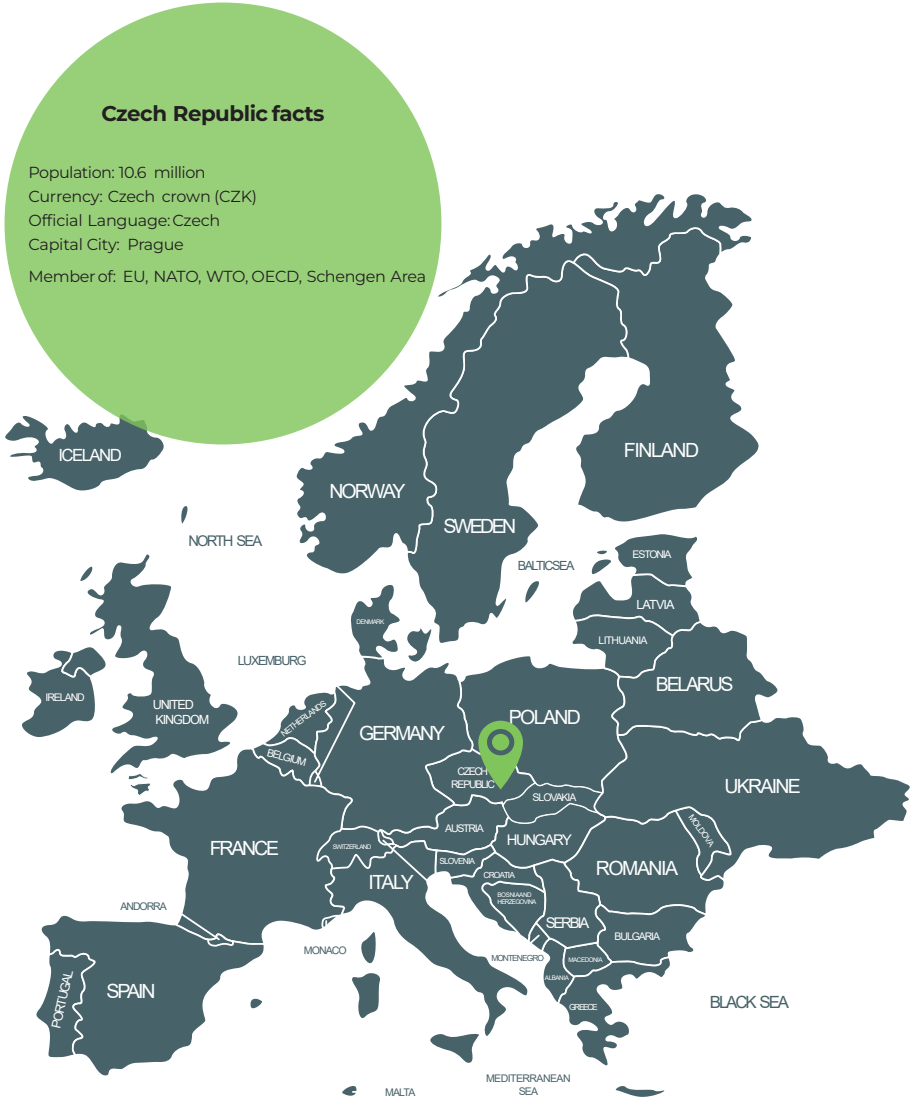

Brno

World's 9th best student city according to students

source: QS 2018 student survey

Brno, the second largest city in the Czech Republic – the heart of Europe – has a huge student population of 65,000 students with a high percentage of international students. According to the City State Report 2018, 98 % of Erasmus students were satisfied and enjoyed their stay in Brno.

Getting around

Public transport in Brno (and most Czech cities) is excellent. You will only need taxi in case of carrying something heavy and traveling far or if you do not want to wait for a night bus. Taxis are more expensive than in Prague and can be ordered by phone. Liftago.com is a taxi aggregator for Prague and Brno. Uber.com unfortunately only works in Prague.

Each line of Brno public transport has a number (trams 1-12, trolley buses 25-39, buses 40-88, and there is even a boat line on the Brno dam). Three-digit bus numbers connect satellite towns and villages. Most run roughly 5am-11pm, in intervals of 3-30 minutes, depending on the line and time. At night, there are special hourly (sometimes half-hourly) night buses (No. 89 - 99, no surcharge).

Timetables

Every stop displays the timetable of lines it serves, but we recommend you to use the internet to plan more complicated journeys. To search just within Brno and surroundings lines, use idsjmk.cz. The official transport company's website is not the most informative in English, even for copies of their bus-stop displayed timetables you have to go to a fan site jrbrno.cz (this may be useful to print for your local stop).

Tickets

Do not try to understand the official ticket price table, most locals cannot decipher it either. The main rule is pretty simple. In town, estimate how long you need and (at tobacco or vending machine) get a 20 CZK ticket for unlimited rides for 15 mins or a 25 CZK ticket for 60 mins. This means you can make the return journey with the same ticket if you are quick. Once inside the vehicle (only trams will always let you in also through the front door) you must validate your ticket by inserting it into the stamping machines slot (it records the time on the ticket). If you get a Czech simcard, you can also pay for ticket by SMS. Consider getting a Brno-wide pass for 275/month or 685/quarter. Take your MENDELU ISIC card and an ID photo to Novobranska 8 in city centre (or to CD Centre in train station) and ask for "šalinkarta". Train journeys to nearby towns using a multi-zone ticket can be a bit cheaper than buying a ticket from the train company.

University structure

People

- Mendel University in Brno consists of 5 Faculties and 1 Institute. Faculties are headed by their Dean ("děkan") who has several assistants for various aspects of academic life. Find them at the Dean's Office ("děkanát") in each faculty. Each faculty has various departments ("ústav") whose academics specialise in particular field. Each Ústav has a Head who is a good port of call for academic issues you cannot resolve with your lecturer.

Academic Life

is.mendelu.cz

- Many of you will have a pretty good idea what courses you want to study. Whether you have come for a semester or the whole degree programme, the system is the same: self manage your study progress via the Information System.

Credit system

- Each course is worth a certain amount of credits which roughly measure the amount of time you should expect to devote to studying it in order to pass. (If you are here for a whole degree, there is a minimum threshold of credits you have to pass in order to proceed to the next semester.

Sport

- University runs many sports clubs. Follow the QR code for google translation of current offerings.

Buildings

- Most Faculties are within one building, both for offices and a majority of classes. Note that the FRDIS is in Z building 2 tram stops away from the main campus. The Faculty of Horticulture is in the town of Lednice about 50 km outside of Brno.
- Off-campus the University also runs a farm and extensive forestry management station.
- Do also visit the University's own large Arboretum, via the footbridge between P and R.

Your study

Grading

- You will be evaluated in each course you take – do not expect everything to depend just on an exam at the end of the semester. In most courses you will get a grade (A-E for pass, F for Fail; you can retake the final exam "zkouška" twice). Some courses are just Pass/Fail ("zápočet").

Academic calendar

- The academic year is divided into Winter ("zimní") and Summer ("letní") semesters, running from late September to late January and from early February to Late June, respectively. Towards the end of each there are a few weeks with no lectures, just exams ("zkouškové období").

ISIC card

Your University ID card will be issued in the form of ISIC card, no need to have two cards separately. It is your single gateway to University services. It gives you access to some places (Arboretum for e.g.), you use it in the Library as well as in the dining halls.

Throughout the country (and the world) many businesses offers students special discounts when you show them your MENDELU ISIC card.

How to get it

- If you come to the Welcome Week at the beginning of semester, there will be an activity to get your ISIC card. If you miss it your buddy can help you to get it later.

2 money accounts

Library and Dining

- To activate the ISIC card for the MENDELU library (in A) there is a 120 CZK fee. After that, you can put extra money on your card for printing in the Library as well. Use the machine next to the printers or pay to the staff.
- There is no fee for activating your ISIC for use in dining halls. You just have to put the money on it through any of the cashiers, on campus or your residence hall. Use your ISIC money since you will often get a discount.

ESN card

You can also get ESN card (Erasmus student network, which works throughout the whole Europe). This card also gives you some discounts (for example entrances and so on).

ISIC card is contactless. To get to some parts of university just attach the card to a nearby scanner. You may have to take the card out of your wallet/purse.

Unlike in many countries, you should not assume you will always get ISIC discount on transport. For example, no ISIC discount on Regiojet buses (domestic).

With your health insurance you can visit any general practitioner (GP) or dentist. If you have a specific problem (e.g. with an eye), first visit a GP (try to make an appointment, if you can) who will examine you and may then arrange a visit to a specialist. Do not forget to bring the insurance card (or another insurance document) with you. If the doctor does not accept your card and you have to pay, keep your receipts, your home insurance company will refund what you paid.

Food

You do not need to be afraid of any food you buy in the Czech Republic. Additionally tap water is drinkable. Czechs also buy mineral water, unlike in many countries it does actually have mineral in it. Many supermarkets are open on Sundays. Restaurants are more expensive than home cooking but most of them offer cheap lunch menu (around 150 CZK). Tipping: most Czechs round up.

Main Menza

The largest dining hall in the centre of university campus (building X). Offers 7 main courses daily (though do not expect all of them towards the end of opening hours), and you can order some more options but you have to wait for them to be prepared (mostly fried). Predominantly Czech cuisine but sometimes with an international twist. Soups, side salads and desserts can also be purchased as well as soft drinks, sandwiches etc. Water from the fountain is for free.

Mo - Th 11am - 4pm
Friday 11am - 2pm

Buffet

Main lobby of "Q" hosts a cafeteria with wide selection of coffees, freshly baked croissants, snacks, toasts, panini etc. This is the venue with the longest opening hours on campus so it is the safest bet early and late.

Monday - Friday 7am - 5pm

Pizzeria

Downstairs of O building various snacks, sandwiches etc. are available, including (on irregular basis) University students' own food products. You can choose from 10 kinds of pizzas but again you have to wait for them to be prepared.

Mo - Th 8am - 4pm
Friday 8am - 1:30pm (pizza available only after 10am).

Around campus & after hours

There is "Restaurace na Chatě", restaurant with nice seating at the bottom of the boulevard along A. A small supermarket is just to the right of it. On the outside of Q there is cozy "Cat Cafe" with ice cream and Italian menu. Two bakeries at tram stop, ERA cafe nearby. Only few pubs/restaurants serve food after 10 pm. Many corner shops are open till 10pm, some fast food shops past midnight. Asian bistros by the central interchange for night buses are open 24/7.

Weather

First snow starts late Nov/ early Dec, but don't expect it to last. Jan & Feb there is often snow on the ground, sometimes it can get to -15°C. Sun is rare. Sub-zero temperatures gradually stop over Mar & Apr. From late May it can get pretty hot, even +30°C. Leaves start turning yellow in September, though pleasant autumn days often last till Nov.

WiFi

You will get eduroam access at MENDELU (or you can use your own if you have it from home). Catch its signal throughout the campus or near some other universities' buildings in town. Many pubs will let you know their WiFi password - but first check around the bar, it might be advertised. Some bus companies offer WiFi. Use common sense when using public access points.

Money

Cards are not accepted everywhere. 1 euro is about 27 CZK. Some supermarkets accept euro but the exchange rate is daylight robbery. Instead change money in a bank or decently looking exchange bureaus, often they will give you a better rate than a bank. Before using cash machine check with your bank about charges.

National Holidays

No school on national holidays, shops are still allowed to be open (this may change).

- 1. Jan (New Year's day)
- ? Good Friday (Easter)
- 1. May (Labour Day)
- 8. May (end of WW2)
- 5. July (Christianity, 863)
- 6. July (Jan Hus Day)
- 28. September (St. Wenceslas)
- 28. October (Statehood)
- 17. November (Velvet Revolution)
- 24. - 26. December (Christmas) + occasional Rector day

Visiting Czechs

You'll be expected to take off your shoes in people's houses, you may be offered slippers, but socks should do, floors are generally kept clean. Do not expect many garden parties, few city people have gardens. Even regular smokers often use a balcony. Beer is just as frequent beverage at dinner as wine.

Mobile_SIM

Mobile services are traditionally more expensive in the Czech Republic than even Western Europe. Check with your home provider, it may be actually cheaper to use your roaming for making calls, though consider getting a local SIM for (always free) incoming and (expensive) data. O2, T-Mobile and Vodafone are main operators, many virtual operators exist.

Travelling

Explore this with friends. Here is what you should google for day trips: Moravian carst Lednice, Pernstejn, Austerlitz, Bucovice, Palava Hrad Veveri Rajec nad Svitavou, Vranov nad Dyji. Further afield are Olomouc, Telc, Slavnocie, Kromeriz, Kutna Hora, Cesky Krumlov, Karlovy Vary Or pick any mountains along the border.

Folklore

Czechs can be more pragmatic than traditional, but when they keep customs, they do so proudly. At Easter, men weave willow whip with which women's wellness will wake. Old pagan Spring tradition. On Christmas Eve (24th), Czechs will eat potato salad and fried battered carp, whose one scale they will carry in their wallets throughout the year.
