

5×3 principles of student in doctoral study programmes at Faculty of Business and Economics

Anchor

- studying on the basis of the ISP and producing a dissertation thesis under the supervision of a supervisor
- receives feedback from the supervisor and is evaluated by the departmental board
- becomes an active part of the university and global academic community

Level

- continuously educates themselves and takes care of their professional growth
- travels, completes foreign internships and gains international experience
- continuously improves the level of their skills and abilities

Perspectives

- engages in project activities
- uses access to data, modern equipment and technology in their workplace
- carries out creative, challenging, varied and interesting work

Benefits

- is an active and creative member of the academic community, participates in the activities of their department
- disseminates the acquired knowledge, skills and results of their own research
- pushes the boundaries of social knowledge

Motivation

- receives a doctoral scholarship during the standard period of study and other scholarships depending on the results and activities
- has more opportunities to fund their own research
- benefits from student status