Compliance with standards and criteria of accreditation of study programs of higher education

Based on the self-evaluation report prepared by the institution and the ECBE review report (and additional documentation), we have established that all standards across all programs were either fully or substantially compliant.

Detailed standard compliance for each program against the ECBE program standards can be found in the team's report which is attached to this decision letter and will be published together on the ECBE website. In summary however, only one standard area was found to contain any element of partial compliance, with all other standards found to be fully compliant.

Overall compliance and decision

The Board of Commissioners determined that overall compliance for both study programs is:

Fully Compliant

According to ECBE Byelaws, the level of conformity with the standards required for granting the maximum ECBE accreditation is that of overall substantial/full compliance. Where some inconsistencies are identified accreditation is to be granted for a shorter period of 3 years.

According to the Byelaws and based on the Review Report, the Institution's SER, and all the additional documentation provided by the University and the Review Team, the Board of Commissioners:

Based on this, the Board of Commissioners determined the following:

Study programs:

1. Bachelor's programme in economics and management (1st cycle)
2. Master's programme in economics and management (2nd cycle)
3. PhD programme in economics and management (3rd cycle)

are therefore accredited for period of 6 years until September 30th, 2030

The institution is expected to prepare a Mid-Cycle Report - a follow-up report on the recommendations and areas for development contained in the reports in 2027.
